DESCRIPTION

The FOX1 cross helmet is a game-changing full face motocross helmet in the world of high-performance Xtreme helmets. Fox1 uses their Acrylonitrile Butadiene Stiren (ABS) for shells. Lightweight, offers little flex as part of an energy management system, and is very strong. It tests as well as the best composite material in the world and is the perfect material for racing helmets and daily. The design of the shells is made dynamically making the details of the component parts very good with its function. a more advanced path from the muzzle makes this helmet safe when a collision occurs. Wind circulation paths are very useful as learning in strengthening the neck every time you drive. With a design motif that is very cool makes the driver appear more perfect in various terrain in driving environment.

DESCRIPTION

Dare to be Innovative. Advanced. 2 models. The new series of JPX helmets, ONYX, has come up with a re-imagining of the possibility of 2 modern motorcycle helmets with a full face. Starting with our exclusively made CARBON shell. This super strong alloy offers very light flexibility and little to absorb energy with a penetration resistance that rivals that of high-end composites.
